NEXA RETAIL

Customer Help - Frequently Asked Questions

Common answers for orders, returns, delivery, payments and account access

Version 5.2 | Published: April 6, 2026

Purpose

This customer-help reference provides short explanations for common questions received through self-service and support channels. Answers are intentionally concise and may point customers to a more detailed process when product, campaign or account conditions require additional checks.

Returns

How long do I have to return an item?

Most unused standard products can be returned within 14 days of delivery. Some product categories, campaigns or special-order items may have different conditions, so the return option shown in your order should be checked before shipping the item.

Where do I create a return?

Open your account, go to Orders, select the order and choose the available return action for the item. On some mobile app versions the wording may appear directly under the order details rather than in a separate returns menu.

Do I need the original shipping box?

The outer delivery carton is not required in every case, but the product must be packed safely. Product packaging, accessories and bundled parts should be returned where they are part of the product.

Can I return an opened product?

That depends on the product category and condition. Opening a standard product box is not always a rejection reason, but hygiene-sensitive, activated digital or used products may have restrictions.

Return Shipping

What is a return code?

A return code is created for an eligible return request and is used with the specified carrier. It is not the same as your order number.

My return code does not work. What should I do?

Check that the return request is still active and that you are using the code for the correct order item. If the code has expired or the carrier rejects it, contact support so the request can be reviewed before another shipment is created.

Do I pay for return shipping?

When you use the contracted carrier method generated by the return process, standard return shipping is normally handled through that arrangement. Costs from a different carrier chosen by the customer are not automatically reimbursed.

The carrier says my return was delivered. Why is the refund not complete?

Carrier delivery only confirms that the parcel reached the destination. The warehouse may still need to receive, match and inspect the product before the return is approved.

Refunds

When will I receive my money back?

Refund timing depends on the payment method and the point at which the return was approved. Once a refund is sent, your bank or payment provider may need additional processing time before the amount appears in your account.

Why does my card refund look different from the original charge?

Banks can display refunds differently for debit cards, installments and pending authorizations. If Nexa Retail has sent the refund, support can provide the available refund date or reference for your bank.

Orders and Delivery

How long does standard delivery take?

Standard delivery is usually completed within 2-5 business days after dispatch. Delivery can take longer during campaign periods, carrier incidents or for some service areas.

Can I change my address after ordering?

Address changes depend on the order stage. If warehouse preparation has not progressed too far, support may be able to update the order. Once the parcel has entered carrier handling, an address change may be unavailable or may require the carrier's own process.

Tracking says delivered but I did not receive the parcel.

Check household, reception and safe-delivery locations first. If the parcel still cannot be found, contact support so the carrier delivery event and proof of delivery can be reviewed.

My order has more than one tracking number.

Some orders are split across shipments. Items may leave different warehouses or be delivered at different times. Check each shipment before reporting a missing item.

Damaged, Wrong or Missing Products

My item arrived damaged.

Take clear photos of the parcel and product if possible and contact support. Keep the packaging until the case is reviewed, especially if there is visible carrier damage.

I received the wrong item.

Do not create a return for a different product if the order and delivered item do not match. Contact support with the order number and the product information from the item received.

An item is missing from the box.

First check whether the order was split into more than one shipment. If all shipments are delivered and the item is still missing, support can open a fulfillment review.

Warranty and Technical Support

Is every faulty item replaced immediately?

No. Depending on the product, basic troubleshooting or technical inspection may be required before the outcome is decided. The final remedy can include repair, replacement, refund or another applicable option.

How long is the warranty?

Many products are sold with a 24-month warranty, but the exact period and coverage depend on the product and supplier terms. Check the product information or contact support with the model and order details.

Does physical damage count as warranty?

Damage caused by impact, liquid exposure, unauthorized repair or misuse may fall outside standard warranty coverage. The service result depends on the inspection findings.

Payments and Invoices

Which payment methods can I use?

Available methods can include credit card, debit card, bank transfer and supported digital wallets. The methods shown at checkout depend on the order and sales channel.

Can a refund be sent to a different card?

Card refunds are normally returned to the original payment instrument. If the original payment method is no longer available, the case may require additional payment review.

Where can I find my invoice?

Invoices are available through the order record when electronic delivery is supported. If an invoice is missing or contains incorrect information, contact support with the order number.

Account and Security

I forgot my password.

Use the Forgot Password option on the sign-in screen. A reset message is sent to the verified contact method associated with the account.

My reset link expired.

Request a new password reset message. The validity period can differ by security flow, so use the latest message rather than an older link.

I am not receiving a verification code.

Check that the phone number or email address is correct, wait for the normal delivery interval and then request a new code. Repeated rapid requests can temporarily limit additional messages.

Can support see my password?

No. Support agents do not have access to your account password and should not ask you to provide it.

I see a sign-in I do not recognize.

Change your password, review active sessions if available and contact support if you believe your account was accessed by someone else.

Getting More Help

When contacting support, have the order number or account email available. For returns and delivery cases, a carrier tracking number or return reference can help the team locate the correct operational record. For product problems, include the model, symptom and any error message you see.